DEMPSEY TO DEFEND LAURELS FOR FIRST TIME IN NEW YORK New York—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, will defend the laurers he stripped on Jess Willard at Toledo last year, for the first time in New York on the evening of December 14th at Madison Square Garden, against K. O. Bili Brennan of Chicago, over the 15 rounds route. This is a return engagement between this pair of thumping heavies. Back in 1917 at Milwaukee they fought a cyclonic battle in which Brennan broke his ankle the in which Brennan broke his ankle in the seventh causing the cessation of hostilities. Up to that time Dempsey had punched nimself out but good fortune managed to keep him swinging widly while his opponent unluckily pulled up with a bad leg. An x-ray picture was taken and as they never lie the broken ligaments were very much in evidence.

Refusal of exporters to follow the re-provisions the outcome varied from 40c decilne to 12c advance.

Refusal of exporters to follow the recent upturn in wheat prices gave a decided advantage to bears throughout the day. Selling was active from the start and was said to come in a considerable degree from foreign interests. Knowledge of additional bank fallures in North Dokota, including one federal reserve institution, did a good deal to deprive the market of support except from ahorts who were in a position to collect profits.

Corn and oats declined with wheat, besides, enlarged requests for cars were generally taken to indicate more liberal receipts of corn here soon.

Weakness of grain and hogs made provisions average lower. Packers were sellers of the count.
